With a growing team of consulting Veterinarians based around the country, Sunset Vets are Australia's leading network of Palliative Care Veterinarians, providing supportive patient care at end-of-life, compassionate euthanasia at home, and professional pet loss and grief support.

At Sunset, we're passionate about making end-of-life better. Our collaborative care model sees us work alongside primary healthcare teams to provide additional, tailored support to families with pets in the end stages of life, delivered in the home-care setting.

We know for busy practices, allocating time out of clinic for this type of care can be difficult, but that supporting families to make better end-of-life care decisions leads to improved patient outcomes, reduces pet owner grief, and fosters stronger vet-client relationships for practices.

COLLABORATE WITH US

There are a number of ways to get involved with us; as a referring clinic, as an advocate for our mission - advancing the way end-of-life care is delivered across Australia, or, as one of our dedicated consulting Vets, supporting families in and around your own community.

We're always excited to connect, so if you'd like to receive an information kit for your clinic, or if you feel like this work is potentially a good fit for you, get in touch. Let's chat!

PET LOSS GRIEF SUPPORT

Sunset Vets are proud to be working in conjunction with a network of Counsellors to provide phone based support for pet owners Australia wide who are struggling with the initial stages of grief associated with the loss of an animal companion.
