

Listen and learn from experts in the Veterinary field.

Tune into The Pet Care Podcast – An educational resource for Vets on the move. Join Veterinary Specialists and Subject Matter Experts across Australia as they unpack various topics.

The Pet Care Podcast provides veterinarians with the latest information on new developments and innovative treatment options in veterinary medicine, so they can provide the best care to their patients.

Series One delves into the key topics of detection, diagnosis and treatment of osteoarthritis pain in dogs and cats.

Episodes will be released fortnightly this Winter.

Experts Include:

Dr James Simcock – Surgical Specialist
Diagnosing osteoarthritis: Tips & tricks on diagnosing the OA dog

Dr Jackie Campbell – Palliative Care Vet
Diagnosing pain, providing analgesia in non-verbal patients & use of analgesia in palliative care

Dr Kath Briscoe – Feline Medicine Specialist
The Solensia experience: Case studies

Dr Gordon Corfield – Surgical Specialist
The Beransa experience: Case studies

Dr Fernando Martinez – Anaesthesia and Analgesia Specialist
Multi-modal approach to analgesia in osteoarthritis & options available to veterinary practitioners

Dr Sarah Goldsmid – Surgical Specialist
The Beransa experience: Case studies

Register Here:

HELPING YOU GIVE THEM THE BEST GOODBYE

The word euthanasia means “good death”, derived from the Greek terms ‘eu’ meaning good and ‘thanatos’ meaning death. Euthanasia is one of the most important services a veterinary clinic provides.

To help you support pet owners through euthanasia of their beloved pets, Zoetis offers a number of support tools free of charge to clinics using Valabarb®. These are available through your local Zoetis Representative.

A brochure designed to explain the process of euthanasia to pet owners, to help them prepare.

A range of sympathy cards (blank on the inside for you to write a personalised message) to send pet owners following the passing of a pet.

Grief cards (sized to fit inside the sympathy cards if needed) to provide grieving pet owners with resources for support.

At Zoetis, we're more than just a product range. When you choose to purchase a Zoetis product, our commitment extends to supporting you to provide exceptional support and services to your clients and their pets.